

GSE Science Flowchart

The Georgia Standards of Excellence in science represent a shift in instructional practice. Instruction should engage students in science and engineering practices as they make sense of a phenomena, apply crosscutting concepts and deepen understanding of disciplinary core ideas. Use this matrix as you find resources and edit your own to better align with this instructional approach.

